7 tips for sex in the shower

from sexinfo101.com

For some people, sex in the shower proves to be a carnal challenge. Some feel uncomfortably confined while they're in the stall, while others get too distracted by the thought of slipping and falling. However, although it takes some creative manoeuvring, there are many advantages to this very wet form of sexual activity.

Why it's Great

The shower is the most natural place to be naked, and getting intimate there creates a novel twist to your sex life. Having steamy hot water run down your bodies can be extremely seductive, which also seriously increases your chance of getting lucky. The setting is naturally conducive to sensual caress, oral attention and deep kissing. It's an efficient, no fuss way to get off, and comes in especially handy when you don't have privacy or when time is a constraint. It's refreshing and invigorating, which is great for those who fall into a coma-like sleep after they cum. It's also very suitable for those who suffer from the adverse effects of chronic body odour.

So now that you're all fired up to get wet, check out our tips for shower sex – they'll help make it sexy every time you step under the spritzer.

1. Safe is Sexy

Please be careful when getting down in the shower. It's very easy to slip, so take precautions to avoid any unnecessary, let alone embarrassing, injuries. Here are a few suggestions. Make sure your shower floor is clean of any soapy or oily residue. While at play, use bath products carefully; you can easily lose your footing on a slick body scrub. Although steamy can be sexy, provide adequate ventilation to prevent anyone from getting faint or dizzy.

2. Make it Spic and Span

Soap scum and piles of hair in the drain take the magic away from shower sex – and fast. A bathroom that's well prepared for sex includes a sanitized shower stall, a fresh scent, and clean towels. Avoid clutter by removing unnecessary stuff off counters and the shower caddy. Post coitus, make sure that all leftover bodily fluid is rinsed away; if not, it can leave a sticky residue that's hard to clean.

3. Set The Mood

Be prepared for anything and everything. Many of the same accessories you keep handy for lovemaking in the bedroom are useful in the bathroom; candles and scented Massage oil are a must. Have nicely scented soap on hand, but use it with care! For many women, not only does it lead to an uncomfortable reaction when it contacts the vagina, the irritation may linger for days afterward. Opt for lots of foreplay to get lubricated and keep a bottle of silicone (not water-based) lube on hand. One of the few downsides of shower sex is that water quickly washes away natural lubrication, so have some extra handy!

4. Nooks and Crannies

Washing one another is an intimate and seductive act. Both of you come out clean, smelling fresh and feeling confident, all of which help put you in the mood. Use a sponge, bath mitt or soft washcloth and lather each others' bodies with a mild soap or gentle shampoo. Take your time to caress sensitive areas and feel free to sneak in a tongue or a finger.

5. Water Toys

What a great place to introduce a sex toy! Consider the fun you could have with a waterproof vibe. There are also splash-proof, hands-free options available that can be worn by either a man or a woman. How about a Dildo that you could suction to the shower wall? If you don't have any Sex Toys suitable for water play, use tools that are located right at your fingertips. If you don't have one already, a quality shower head is the best investment into your sex life in the shower. As one of the most common 'sex toys' that women start out masturbating with, not only will she appreciate the gesture, she'll also love all those fan dangled spray and massage options.

6. Appropriate Sex Positions

Prepare an arsenal of passionate poses to steam it up in the bathroom. If there's a significant height or body size difference, it's all the more reason to have some practised in your mind. In addition, be mindful of positioning yourselves so that water isn't spurting into one another's face.

The most appropriate positions are variations on the standing Rear Entry position, Bodyguard. Have her put her hands up against the wall and spread her legs, as though she were getting frisked, and penetrate her from behind. Get her to bend right over as in Ben Dover and then support her by the wrists in Prison Guard.

If you want to gaze into each others' eyes, try some of these face to face poses. If differing heights don't get in the way, be on your feet in a sort of standing Missionary; then, get a leg over in Dancer, one of the most popular positions for the shower. If you can really get a leg over, try Ballerina. Another hot shower position is to hold her up entirely.

When you need to take a break, get down on your knees and try kneeling Missionary, Bended Knee, or some good old Doggy Style. If you want to be able to sit for a while, do the Lotus.

7. Make the Best of What You've Got

You may not own the shower you've always fantasized about having sex in but, whether it's big or small, use what you've got to your advantage. If you've got a tight space with nowhere to sit or rest a leg, you'll have the most fun with standing positions. Press her against the wall of the shower and penetrate her from behind; the coolness of the shower wall will be an invigorating contrast to the hot action going on behind her.

If her legs are long enough, she can use the walls of the shower to hold herself up as he presses her body against the wall for Face to Face penetration. Wrapping a leg around his hip or leg is also a great way for her to maintain balance during Intercourse. When you need to use a restful pose, throw some towels down on the shower floor and use them to have sex on while you're on your knees.

For those of you who've got a shower seat or a bathtub, enjoy the convenience. Use the seat and ledges to prop up a leg or to brace against; find creative ways to incorporate the bathtub ledge into intercourse. Since you're not as confined with space, why not try positions like Bulldog and Cowgirl.

Final Thoughts

With all of these great reasons to get dirty while you're getting clean, why not try getting it on in the shower! Whether you use it to start off a night of fantastic lovemaking, or as a quick way to get off, the shower is an un-sung winner.

shower sex tip

Use a silicone lubricant in the shower for long lasting pleasure as your water-based lube will wash away. The Taboo Show is the best place to find your new waterproof vibe!

g spot lollipop

by midnight boudoir

When I first saw these new and innovative unique sex toys, I had to know more.

I never would have thought that such a simple idea would give so much pleasure. This ingenious Lollipop helps you master your G-spot. Those of you who have trouble finding your G-spot, or those who have never squirted would definitely benefit from trying a G-spot Lollipop. The spherical shape and the correct angling and movement could turn you into a squirting queen overnight.

G-spot Lollipops have been designed to reach any woman's G-spot. The perfectly round shape fits in-between the kegel muscles in your vagina, so that when you orgasm, the kegels literally grip around the pop contracting and gripping spasmodically during your orgasm till it's finished. This feels incredible!

They are made of smooth, easy to clean acrylic which come in a gorgeous variety of yummy colours connected by hypoallergenic, body-safe surgical steel. You can leave these lying around and no one will have any idea what they are.

Your pussy won't want to let go!
Because of the unique shape of the G-Spot lollipop, it creates sensations you may not have experienced before. With a normal vibe, you thrust it in and out holding the vagina open. However, with the pops, as you thrust the vagina opens and closes around it, your pussy grips onto the pop as you pull it backwards and forwards, so you are exercising more than you think you are.

The waterproof Double pop - which is G-spot Lollipop's best selling toy to date - and has been nominated for the 2012 AVN Best Sex Toy for women awards. It comes with a ball at each end of two different sizes. To use it, you start with the smaller ball, and once you have mastered the smaller pop you then move onto the larger pop, getting 2 toys in 1.

It's a sensation like no other as you feel your kegels clamp around these pops as you orgasm. Don't be surprised if you start to get comments from your OH that you feel tighter down there.

G-spot Lollipops are innovative, unique, fun and colourful toys to add to any collection. Plus, your orgasms will become more intense the more that you use this incredible toy by gradually strengthening your whole pelvic floor and improving your sexual experiences - not just for yourself but for your partner. Can you really put a price on that? Exercise has never been so much fun!

with melissa jones, ph.d.

Melissa Jones is a clinical sexologist and board certified sexuality educator who specializes in helping her clients improve their relationships by enhancing their sexuality and overcoming intimacy challenges.

Q: We've been together for a long time and things seem to have fizzled in the bedroom, how can we get the spark back in our sex-life?

A: You aren't alone! This is the number one problem I hear from the couples I see. The first item on the agenda: put each other first. This may sound easy until I ask couples to put aside "clutter" that gets in the way of intimacy: Facebook, Twitter, video games, smart-phones, and television, including all those recorded shows waiting for you. I usually get a little hesitation. Couples make the mistake of thinking that if they are watching television together, then they're together. Yes, you are together but are you snuggling? Are you having in-depth discussions? Are you having a good make-out session that leads to fantastic sex? Think back to when you were first dating. That is the behavior that I want couples to recreate. This includes a lot of "Love Touch" activities, erotic massage, hand holding, making out and enjoying each other physically. It's about having that feeling of butterflies in your stomach again

Q: There are so many new and wild toys out there for us women, where do I even start?

A: It can be overwhelming to know which sex toy is the best for you. First, what do you want to accomplish? A g-spot orgasm, clitoral orgasm, a combination of both? Perhaps some new BDSM toys? If you are lucky enough to have a good toy store in your town ask the sales staff which toys are the best sellers and why. But beware that the best seller may not be the most productive. Don't be afraid to ask to "play" with the toys. They usually have a display model that you can turn on and feel. You can get an idea of how strong a vibrator will feel by trying it out on your nose. (Just don't let your husband post that photo on Facebook). Sales staff can also educate you on products materials—some materials are much better than others. There are several online toy stores that have customer reviews of toys; just make sure that you're getting a real reviews from women, men and couples and not the company review. Have fun shopping.

Q: I've heard that I can get addicted to a vibrator, is that true?

A: Sex toys are a great way to enhance your sexual experiences. They can vibrate, stay hard, and best of all they don't get tired. There is no better way to learn how to experience vaginal orgasms than by using a vibrator to help you figure out how to pleasure your body better. Vibrators are a great addition to anyone's sexual repertoire. Whether as a stand-in or an addition to the "real thing", there is a size and style to suit everyone. The body responds to erotic stimulation no matter where it comes from: fingers, tongue, penis, or vibrator. Some women report occasional temporary numbness if it's too vigorous and fast. If a vibrator causes numbing, don't press it so hard into the vulva and clitoris. Addicted? No. But you might just enjoy it a whole lot!

Q: My wife has been reading the "Fifty Shades" books and is wanting to try some kinky stuff. Help!

A: For many couples, this book has certainly caused a fire in the bedroom. Something I have been hearing from a lot of men is "help, I can't keep up." Surprisingly, what wives want most is the attention and romance that the hero of the book gives his partner. Men can't be expected to have orgasm after orgasm in a thirty-minute time frame, but you can surprise her with a goodie bag of beginner BDSM toys: silk ropes, handcuffs and ben-wa balls. It's about the time and effort you put into thinking about your wife and paying attention to her desires. Maybe your next goodie bag will include some more "advanced" toys.

sex every day keeps the doctor away

Sex burns about 70-120 calories for a 130 pound woman, and 77 to 155 calories for a 170 pound man every hour. In other words, have sex instead of exercise!!!

Sex is one of the safest sports you can take up (if you use a condom). It stretches and tones up just about every muscle in the body. It's more enjoyable than swimming 20 laps, and you don't need special sneakers!

A lot of lovemaking can unblock a stuffy nose. Sex is a natural antihistamine. It can help combat asthma and hay fever.

Sex actually relieves headaches. A lovemaking session can release the tension that restricts blood vessels in the brain.

Sex is an instant cure for mild depression. It releases endorphins into the bloodstream, producing a sense of euphoria and leaving you with a feeling of well-being.

Kissing each day will keep the dentist away. Kissing encourages saliva to wash food from the teeth and lowers the level of the acid that causes decay, preventing plaque build-up.

A medical study conducted in Pennsylvania showed that people who have sex once or twice a week have their immune systems boosted slightly.

During the female orgasm, endorphins are released, which are powerful painkillers. So in fact, headaches are an invalid excuse to not have sex.

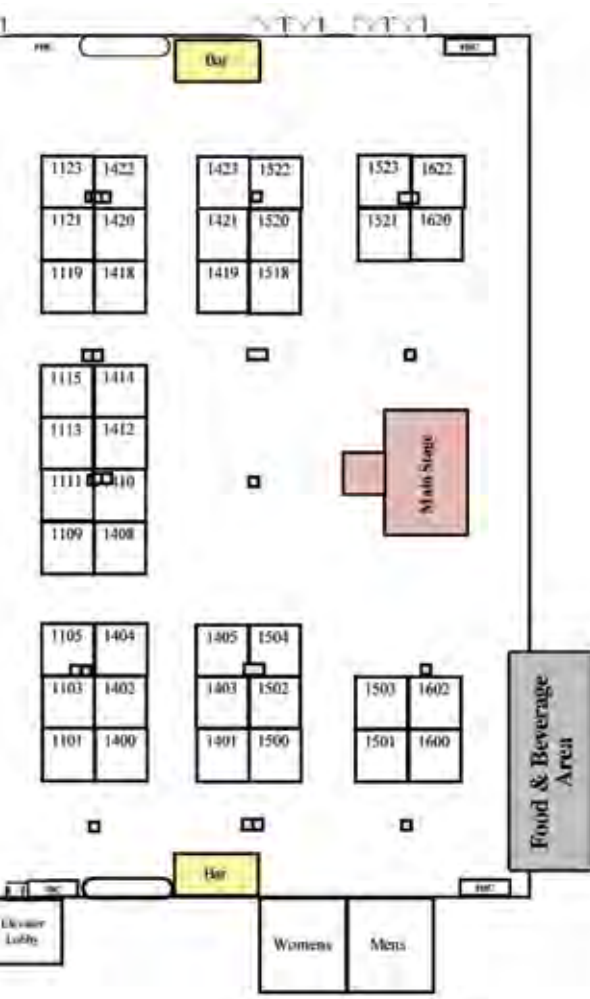

Gentle, relaxed lovemaking reduces your chances of suffering dermatitis, skin rashes and blemishes. The sweat produced cleanses the pores and makes your skin glow.

Sex is a beauty treatment. Scientific tests find that when women make love they produce small amounts of the hormone estrogen, which makes hair shine and skin smooth.

According to the Museum of Sex, the vibrator was originally used as a medicinal treatment for female "hysteria" during the 19th century. The vibrator-induced orgasms helped doctors dissipate hysteria's anxiety-related symptoms.

There are approximately 100 million acts of sexual intercourse each day.

A man will ejaculate approximately 18 quarts of semen in his lifetime.

Candles are the artificial device used most by women when masturbating.

Humans are the only species on earth that have face-to-face sex.

Humans and dolphins are the only species that have sex for pleasure.

Twenty-five percent of sexually active people engage in anal sex.

2013 sexual astrology

Aquarius

Jan 20 : Feb 18

Invite your partner to meet you at a place that is new to both of you. Take in the scene, and make connections with the people you meet. You'll enjoy expanding your social circle.

Pisces

Feb 19 : Mar 20

Work towards finding a balance between your own needs and those of your partner. You each have different things that make you tick, and there's a middle ground where you're both happy.

Aries

Mar 21 : Apr 19

Listen to what your loved one is saying to you. Not just their words, pay attention to their body language, too. They are giving you plenty of clues about what they need from you.

Taurus

Apr 20 : May 20

Moderation is the word for you today. Have fun with your sweetheart tonight, but don't get too wild. Pace yourself, you'll want to make the good times last all week!

Gemini

May 21 : Jun 20

If you're feeling overwhelmed, remember that you don't have to do everything on your own. Let your partner know what you need. If you ask, they'll be willing to take over what you can't do.

Cancer

Jun 21 : July 22

You and your honey may have differing ideas about how you'd like to spend next weekend. If you're usually the one who gets to decide, let them have a chance to make the plans.

Leo

July 23 : Aug 22

You're in a great mood today, so invite your sweetie out for a night on the town. If it's been a while since you've tried something new, find a place that's just opening. up and be among the first to try it.

Virgo

Aug 23 : Sept 22

You're trying to juggle a lot right now. If making plans seems like just one more chore, invite your honey to join you for a cozy night in. Cuddling on the sofa could lead to an exciting night after all.

Libra

Sept 23 : Oct 22

Set the tone for the day early by leaving your sweetie a flirty message on their voicemail. They won't be able to stop thinking of you, which is exactly your goal. By evening, they'll be ready for anything.

Scorpio

Oct 23 : Nov 21

If you can't decide what to do for fun tomorrow tonight, let your sweetie make the call. Even better, tell them they can choose anything and you'll go along with it, with no complaining.

Sagittarius

Nov 22 : Dec 21

The toughest decision you'll have to make all day is where to meet your sweetie for dinner. Keep the easy vibe going by taking in a comedy, and letting laughter take all the week's cares away.

Capricorn

Dec 22 : Jan 19

If there is one thing you've really wanted your lover to do, stop waiting and make the first move yourself! You're sure to get what you want when you take the matter into your own hands and get it done.
